Master the Task (up to 300 guests)

With lockdown presenting a real challenge in how to engage your employees on a regular basis, we have designed a concept that involves all your guests in a weekly series of challenges rather than being a one-off event.

On Monday, guests are set a challenge for the week from one of four categories – creative, physical, technical and just plain silly! Then participants have the chance to perfect their skills in preparation for the live event on Friday where they can earn points for their teams..

The team league table will run over the course of a month and points are earned by competing in the weekly challenges - such as how many times can you roll a coin between your fingers? And how many keepy uppys can you do before you drop the ball?

Perfectly designed to drive engagement and competitive spirit during these tricky times, this is loosely based around the hugely popular "Taskmaster" TV show.
